High-Impact Strategist Enriching Lives through Organizational Revitalization and Fundraising Campaigns

For over 25 years, Sally M. Davis has been driving organizational growth, programs, and enhancements in the education, human resources and non-profit spheres. She is the strategist organizations look for results. Her proven methodology for revitalizing the policies, procedures, programs, and initiatives at organizations is rooted in her life's mission – to enrich people's lives with access to equitable opportunities.

Nonprofits rely on Davis to propel fundraising opportunities into quantifiable support, ranging from $1M to $300M in successful campaigns. She leads clients and teams with passion and a keen ability to leverage alliances and partnerships by building meaningful and strategic relationships that lead to profit and sustainable support. Her laser-like focus and agile mind resolve issues, restructure organizations, direct talent acquisition, and develop a personable and solid remote or in-person workforce ready to tackle challenges collaboratively to achieve goals.

As a C-suite executive in the nonprofit and corporate worlds, Davis' roles include as the Managing Director of Foundations Relations of Feeding America, VP of Foundations and Major Gifts of the Boys & Girls Club of America, CEO of Big Brother Big Sisters of Central Indiana, VP of Executive Talent Acquisition & Chief Diversity Officer of Mercy Health, Eli Lilly- Global Diversity & Business Development, HR Business Partner of Mass Mutual and Global Diversity Officer of Engine Company.

Davis has been a member of numerous boards, including Hillside, High Museum of Art, Corporate & Development and in the Board of Trustees at Drake University. She holds a Master of Science in Counseling and Personnel and Bachelor of Fine Arts in Speech Communications from Drake University, Des Moines, IA.
