

Ketty Poletto

Ketty Poletto has more than 16 years in Procurement, Sustainability and Marketing Operations experience. She is currently leading Business Services Procurement at Unilever and prior to Unilever she spent more than six years at the Coca-Cola Company in a variety of roles in both direct (Ingredients and Packaging), MBS and Sustainability. Prior to Coca-Cola Ketty spent nearly a decade in strategic sourcing at Procter &

Gamble, where she held global positions in Marketing procurement, raw materials and packaging procurement. Ketty received multiple innovations awards and recognitions during her tenure at P&G and The Coca-Cola Company.

In her private time Ketty loves spending time mentoring others, reading, exercising and spending time with her two boys. She is an active supporter of diversity and inclusion and her purpose is to be an inspiration to others as a strong, caring and courageous woman leader while doing good for others and the environment.